With keenest appreciation of the spirit in which he has won the devotion and admiration of every Elon student, of his unusual style of teaching, and of his long and untiring interest in our activities, we lovingly dedicate this twenty-fifth volume of the PHI-PSI-CLI to Dr. John Urquart Newman, who, since the founding of our College fifty years ago, has engendered in us through his matchless character, charming personality, and rare erudition, ideals which challenge our utmost efforts.

HISTORY OF THE COLLEGE

During the fifty years since her founding Elon College has known a varied and dramatic history. Her progress has been exceptional, and events which seemed disastrous have made way for the development of a greater school. We deem it fitting, therefore, to review briefly in this Golden Anniversary Edition of the Phi-Psi-Chi the outstanding incidents and achievements of this history.

The story of Elon College is a constituent part of the history of the Christian Church in the Southeast. In 1794 the Reverend James O'Kelly and a group of dissenters from Wesleyan Methodism met at Lebanon Church in Surry County, Virginia and agreed to found what was the first democratically governed church to arise on American soil. They named the church "Christian, to the exclusion of all party and sectarian names." They were interested in Christianity, not as a system of theology or a body of doctrines, but as a way of life. It was on this basis that the church has grown to its present status.

From the early beginnings of the church in North Carolina and Virginia there had been a demand that there be established a college for the denomination. The demand grew with the church, and in September, 1888, the Southern Convention met in extraordinary session in Old Providence Church, Graham, North Carolina, to hear the reports and recommendations of the Committee on Schools and Colleges.

The Convention appointed a provisional Board for the proposed college, authorizing the Board to choose a site for the college and to make the necessary legal and financial transactions. The Board was composed of Dr. W. S. Long, Dr. J. Pressley Barrett, Hon. F. O. Moring, Col. J. H. Harden, and Dr. G. S. Watson. Dr. W. S. Long, a pioneer in higher education, had opened a school in Graham in 1865; this school, which later developed into Graham Normal College, became the active forerunner of Elon College. Led by Dr. Long, the Board finally chose a site at a village then known as Mill Point, six miles from Graham. A tract of twenty-five acres of land at Mill Point was given by the Hon. W. H. Trollinger of Haw River. The citizens of Mill Point donated twenty-three acres additional, and four thousand dollars in cash. In consideration of these donations the college was located at Mill Point. Two outstanding donations to the early college were the gifts of Mr. John A. Mills, an officer in the Southern Convention, who gave the lumber for the original building, and Mr. Trollinger who gave in addition to the tract of land the brick used in the Administration Building and East Dormitory.

The Provisional Board preferred other names, but owing to the predominance of stalwart oaks on the site, selected the name "Elon," the Hebrew word meaning oak.

On March 11, 1889, Elon College was chartered and incorporated by the General Assembly of the State of North Carolina, and the school began its career as a publicly recognized institution. In keeping with the charter provisions, the original Board of Trustees numbered fifteen: W. S. Long, J. W. Wellons, W. W. Staley, G. S. Watson, M. L. Hurley, E. T. Pierce, W. J. Lee, P. J. Kernodle, J. F. West, E. E. Holland, E. A. Moffitt, J. M. Smith, J. H. Harden, F. O. Moring, and S. P. Read.

Dr. Long was elected president of the college, and six additional members of the faculty were elected: Dr. J. U. Newman, who is the only member of the original group still serving on the faculty, Miss Berta Moring (Mrs. J. W. Roberts), Miss Lena Beal (Mrs. W. G. Farrar), Dr. E. L. Moffitt, Professor S. A. Holleman, and Dr. J. O. Atkinson. Two buildings were erected during the year at the site at Mill Point: The Administration Building, a large three-story brick building housing the library, laboratories, the administrative offices, society halls, and classrooms for all departments; the other, East Dormitory, a residence hall for girls.

After four years, Dr. Long was succeeded as president in 1893 by Dr. W. W. Staley, then pastor of the Suffolk, Virginia, Christian Church, who served as non-resident president without salary.

Upon Dr. Staley's resignation in 1905, Dr. E. L. Moffitt was elected to succeed him. Dr. Moffitt served six years, during which time two additional buildings were erected on the campus. A larger dormitory for girls, West Dormitory, was built, and East Dormitory was given over to the boys. The new dining halls, kitchen and the girls' gymnasium were built adjacent to West Dormitory. In addition, the power house was erected, providing electric power and steam heat for the college buildings.

In 1911, Dr. Moffitt resigned as president, and Dr. W. A. Harper, then a member of the faculty, was elected and began the longest term of office in the history of the college. In 1912, a larger boys' dormitory and gymnasium combined was built and financed through the Elon Alumni. It is properly known as Alumni Building, but students have always known it as "North Dormitory." A year later Ladies' Hall was erected to take care of an increased enrollment of girls.

During the period of America's participation in the World War, regular enrollment at Elon declined. However, a contingent of the R.O.T.C. was stationed on the campus and temporarily greatly increased the student population. Regular class schedules were adjusted to meet the new demands, but the school continued its usual activities.

In January 1923, the Administration Building was destroyed by fire. "The fire," as it is known in Elon's history, is one of the most outstanding incidents in the story of the school because of the excitement and terror it caused, and because it brought about a building program much needed by the college. Students and faculty carried on as best they could with improvised classrooms and equipment while reconstruction was in progress.

Five new buildings were planned and erected: The Alamance Building, Carlton Library, Whitley Memorial Auditorium, Mooney Christian Education Building and Duke Science Building. Great pride was taken in the erection of the Mooney Christian Education Building since it was the first such building to be erected on the campus of any college in America.

With the onset of the depression of 1929-30, the heavy mortgages and a decreased enrollment combined to bring a difficult situation upon the shoulders of the administration and the trustees. Following Dr. Harper's resignation in June 1931, the College was without a president until October of that year, and there was grave doubt as to whether Elon would be able to open its doors to students in the fall of 1931. At this desperate moment the Board of Trustees elected as president Dr. L. E. Smith, then pastor of the Christian Temple of Norfolk, Virginia. Dr. Smith succeeded in bringing Elon through the stormy years successfully, and not only recouped the losses in personnel and students, but greatly reduced the indebtedness of the institution and increased the student enrollment. Athletics assumed importance, and Elon now ranks high in college athletic circles outside the conference as well as within the conference group. The curriculum has been improved and special courses added from time to time to care for the demands of students as well as the changing business and professional order.

Looking back through the years we proudly survey the evidence of success of students and faculty alike, of the binding loyalty of friends, and of deep rooted tradition.

THE COLLEGE SEAL

The official college seal was designed by Dr. Walton Crump Wicker, past head of the Department of Mathematics, who was an integral part of the college from the date of its founding until his death, August 31, 1939. It was completed during the summer of 1908 and submitted to the Administrative Committee and the Board of Trustees for approval, at their annual meeting in September of the same year. Upon its acceptance, it was declared the official insignia of Elon College to be used on all college documents of an academic nature.

The minutes of the Committee which included Dr. Wicker's interpretation of the seal were destroyed when the Administration Building burned in 1923. The significance of the various symbols is generally known, since they are of Masonic origin, and the interpretation now given to the seal embodies much the same meaning as did the original. Numen Lumen, the Latin motto of the college, is freely translated New Light. The two columns represent strength, and the eye pictured above the lighted urn and the open book is the All Seeing Eye which shines down upon the Urn of Truth and the Book of Knowledge, representing the guiding principles upon which this institution was founded. The circle enclosing these figures symbolizes the eternal circle, unbroken from eternity to eternity. Eighteen hundred eighty-nine, the date included in the seal, is the date of the founding of the institution.

Wherever the use of color is possible, the symbols are maroon inscribed upon a gold background, these colors being the traditional colors of the College.

COLLEGE

ADMINISTRATION

DR. LEON EDGAR SMITH

Elon College has fifty years of successful operation and high educational achievements to its credit. Its story of progress is interesting and thrilling. Beginning in an uncleared forest, Elon now boasts of ten buildings on the campus, valuable property and holdings off the campus, a fine student body numbering six hundred twenty-five, and a most efficient faculty. Her advantages at the beginning of her second half-century of service are auspicious. At present Elon College is larger than and is as efficient in the field of higher education as was any institution of higher learning within the state fifty years ago. Prophetic insight would be required to indicate what the institution may be at the end of another half-century of service and growth.

Her present achievements have been attained by strict adherence and devotion to high ideals in all matters affecting the training and guidance of youth, by strict economy, and by unusual frugality. The founders and directors of the institution have made investments, employed instructors, and formulated programs for procedure, all for the benefit of the youth of our state and nation in every age. The college stands today encouraging her present student body, congratulating her present graduating class, and craving the cooperation and continued help of those who have crossed her campus and gone out to do battle in life. Her influence has gone out through all the land and her invitation sincere and earnest is today extended to all ambitious youths who desire to discover their talents and develop the same for high service in a needy world.

LEON EDGAR SMITH.

ADMINISTRATION

Graduation climaxes many efforts of varying nature but it does not conclude responsibilities. Commencement is the beginning of that life which reaches beyond. All experiences preceding this period weigh heavily in assuring the degree of success one may attain in his chosen vocation. I sincerely trust that everyone of you has benefited exceptionally well from the offerings of Elon College. My best wishes and sincere hopes attend all of your endeavors in behalf of a democratic society.

J. D. MESSICK, Dean.

To the Class of 1940:

May I congratulate you upon your graduation and extend to you my best wishes for success in achieving your worth-while goals in the future! It has been a pleasure to have you as members of the student body and, although we shall miss you when the next term begins, we shall feel closer to some place in the world because you are there.

Sincerely yours,

JULIA MAE OXFORD.

When school days are over, Raleigh plans to auction tobacco and spends most of his waking hours practicing the well known American Tobacco Company trademark. His friends refuse to comment, but his roommate says that he much prefers the lullabies of another more melodious King. Don't let that worry you, Cassanova, he'll change his mind when you succeed Speed Riggs.

Catherine consistently wins the superlative title for "Hardest Working Girl," and she deserves it. Studies, library work and club activities done well require hard work and Catherine always does her work well. She takes time out now and then to spend an hour chatting with the girls on second floor and adding her bit to the lively sessions which are traditional to West Dorm. Success she deserves, and a large share of it.

Like the Senate, the Council is composed of representatives elected from each of the four classes, and from each hall of the girls' dormitories. It is the governing body of all the girls who live on the campus and of the Day Students while they are on campus. Its authority is succeeded only by the Administration. In conjunction with the Dean of Women, it reviews cases of offenders of college rules and regulations and administers fines and punishment. The Council has proved a most effective means of student government for the girls of the college.

THE GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY EDITION OF PHI-PSI-CLI

The PHI-PSI-CLI, college year book published by the Senior Class, was under the direction of June Leath, Editor, Martin Moon, Business Manager, and Dr. Fletcher Collins, Jr., Faculty Adviser. The staff included Moses Crutchfield, Photographer and Sports Editor; Virginia Fowler, Society Editor; Bill Reid, Art Editor; Vernon Hayden, Snapshot Editor; Charles Parker, Junior Editor, and Alma Coneby and Betty Hoyt, typists.

In conjunction with the program planned by the Administration, the 1940 Edition has as its theme the Golden Anniversary of the College, and presents along with campus activities of this year a history of Elon College during the fifty years since its founding.

EDITORIAL AND BUSINESS STAFF

Best known of the three campus publications is the college paper, The Maroon and Gold, which is published biweekly. Elon's newspaper is unique among school papers in the state because all the work, with the exception of linotyping, is done on the campus by students. The business staff as well as the editorial staff is composed of members of the regular course in Journalism, and the editor is elected from the Senior Class by the entire student group. Dr. Collins, teacher of the Journalism class, is Faculty Adviser of the publication.

All phases of campus activity are presented through editorials, feature articles, news stories of current events, records of athletic and academic contests, and such regular columns as Rambling, Inquiring Reporter, Snip and Snoop, and music, library and movie previews.

COLONNADES

The Colonnades is the student literary publication edited by members of the Modern Literature class, and published once each semester. Dr. Collins, instructor of the Modern Literature course, is Faculty Adviser to the group. Under his direction, the best contributions in essays, poetry, short stories and plays written by the group are selected for publication in the magazine. Students outside the group are privileged to contribute original compositions to the publication.

The Colonnades, like the Maroon and Gold, is printed on the campus on the college press by members of the staff. Page layouts, illustrations, cover designs, and binding are all planned and supervised by the group.

Though the Colonnades is comparatively young, it has already become traditional, and students eagerly await each issue of the magazine.

BAND AND CHOIR

CHOIR

The College Band is directed by Howard Brown, Student Director, and led by Ed Roberson and Evelyn Lilley, Drum Major and Majorette. All students are eligible to participate in the band, which plays for varsity athletic contests, special campus functions and regularly scheduled concerts.

Under the baton of director Stuart Pratt, the Choir has done outstanding work this year. Special concerts at holidays, music for church and chapel services, concert tours and radio concerts have made up their program of activities. Thomas Edwards, tenor; Kenneth Utt, bass; James Holton, baritone; Hannah Hobby, contralto, and Mrs. Thomas Edwards, alto; are regular soloists. Fletcher Moore at the organ console and Helen Boone and Margaret Felton at the pianos are accompanists for the group.

ORCHESTRA

LOUIE HUBBARD and THE COLLEGIATES

The Collegiates, student orchestra, directed by Louie Hubbard, plays for social functions on the campus and elsewhere throughout the state. The players are selected for their musical ability and love of modern music. Fred Gilliam is vocalist for the orchestra. The Collegiates have received much praise for their smooth performances and are fast becoming known as one of the best college orchestras in this section.

The Collegiates are entirely a student organization and are not connected with the regular music department of the college.

LITERARY SOCIETY

Taking up the work of the former Literary Societies which were dissolved with the advent of fraternities on the campus, the Dr. Johnson Literary Society has carried on in praiseworthy fashion their program of activities.

The Society holds weekly meetings in the Society Hall at which time they conduct a business meeting in parliamentary order and programs of various types. Debates, orations, discussions of current events and plays constitute a large part of these programs. Outstanding in their activities for this year was the Oratorical Contest held in the spring. This year the contest was held in the Society Hall April 24. Harold Maxwell, using as his subject "Propaganda," was awarded a gold key for the first prize. Second prize was won by Kenneth Utt, who used as his topic "Save Our Democracy." Third prize went to John Hall who spoke on "Our Economic System." The fourth prize was awarded Richard Divers for his oration, "Crime." The second, third and fourth prizes were cash awards. Jim Ferris, Joel Scott, Charles Jones and Bill Hilliard received honorable mention for their speeches.

Members acclaimed this the most successful contest ever staged by the Society and are confident that it has laid the foundation for bigger and better ones in following years.

Judges for the Oratorical Contest were Professors Barney, Sprague and French, all of the college faculty.

At the beginning of the second semester the members entertained at their annual banquet for graduating members of the Society, and special guests.

The Panvio Literary, companion organization to the Dr. Johnson Literary Society, operates on much the same plan as their brother organization. Regular meetings featuring programs of varying nature, business sessions and socials are included in their activities.

The youngest of the campus clubs, the Panvio Society has made rapid progress in the two years since its establishment, and shows great promise of becoming one of the most influential groups on the campus.

HOUSEHOLD ARTS CLUB

One of the oldest non-sorority clubs for girls on the campus is the Household Arts Club. Its membership is drawn from the Home Economics majors and other students interested in the type of work it promotes. Although its chief function is to discuss problems in the field of Home Economics and to promote interest in this subject, it stages many social affairs during the school year, ranging from formal costume teas to roast-your-own-weiner picnics.

In addition to their regular club work, the members of the Household Arts Club plan and serve banquets for many campus organizations throughout the year, sent contestants to the annual fashion show held at State College, Raleigh, N. C. each year, and entertain the Board of Trustees at the spring meeting of the Board.

Officers of the group are: Ida Mae Piland, President; Elmer Williams, Vice President; Hazel McIntyre, Secretary-Treasurer; and Miss Lida Muse, Faculty Sponsor. Other members are Jane Byrd, Sara Corbitt, Mary Lee Dameron, Minnie Bell Frye, Levene Holmes, Jewel Kerns, Helen Long, Pansy Miller, Mildred Shook, Nora Sunny, Agnes Walker, Ellen Womble and Elizabeth Manchester.

THE COMMERCIAL CLUB

The Commercial Club is one of the most active departmental clubs on the campus. It was organized soon after the business administration work was added to the school curriculum, and has to its credit a record of worthwhile activities throughout its history. Programs other than those relating to the business field are often given at their regular meetings, and several events are sponsored during the year.

During the spring the club visits many business firms in neighboring cities to get first-hand information on office management and secretarial practice. In addition to these trips, motion pictures of the more prominent industries and topics of interest to business students are shown. Prominent business and professional leaders are brought to the campus for lectures to the entire student body under their sponsorship.

THE FINE ARTS CLUB

Students in the regular art courses offered by the Fine Arts Department and others especially interested in art work comprise the membership of this club. Of their many activities during the year, the Open House and Exhibit, a regular part of the commencement program each year, is outstanding.

Commercial printing, water colors, portrait painting, tapestry work and china painting are featured in club work and draw many members to the group from outside the school. The club visits galleries, private exhibits and exhibits at nearby schools whenever possible.

Several members of the group have won recognition for their work in art circles throughout the state, and the club is considered one of the most prominent in this section.

Officers of the group are: Margaret Miller, President; Dorothy Warren, Vice President; Raleigh Luter, Secretary; Camille Kivette, Treasurer; and Miss Lila Newman, Faculty Adviser.

MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION

To promote interest in religious work and to bring in closer relationship the students specializing in this field is the dual purpose of the Ministerial Association. It is one of the best known organizations on the campus with a reputation for smoothness and harmony in its work, its participation in school activities and the outstanding personalities of its membership.

Many members of the Ministerial Association hold positions as regular pastors for country churches in nearby communities and all are frequently selected to lead special services of a religious nature in these and other churches. Outstanding in their work as a club is the organization of training groups and youth forums in churches which did not have groups of this type for their younger members.

Nathan Cooper, President; Jimmie McDade, Vice President; and Ann Eshelman, Secretary-Treasurer are officers of the Association. Members for the year 1939-40 are: Ellis Clark, Charles Coble, Byran Gregory, Johnson Griffin, Hoyt Lindley, Weldon Madrey, Daulton Moore, Elizabeth Newton, Amos Phillips, Kenneth Register, Edward Robertson, Holt Ross, Joel Scott, Isaac Terrell, Cecil Thomas, Kenneth Utt, Duane Vore, J. H. Waugh and Henry Wise. Dr. Bowden and Dr. French are faculty members of the group.

Third row: Whitley, Apple, Laws, Pearce, Potter, Saecker, Shaw, Askew, Hobson, Causey, Longest, Fuller, Showfety, Cessna.

A block "E," an interest in athletics and a desire to be identified with others who have won their letters through varsity sports or as managers of teams are the primary requisites for membership in the "E" Men's Club. The group now numbers forty-five, and is stronger than it has ever been in the past. Lloyd Whitley, President, and Genie Malbon, Secretary-Treasurer, have led the "E" Men through a successful year, and have done much to increase the prestige of the club. Club members can be easily identified by their maroon sweaters with the gold block letters.

Special privileges in the election of captains of the varsity teams are given those who have won their "E" in that particular sport, and letter men are usually selected to head the teams.

DAY STUDENT ASSOCIATION

Regular and special students who reside off the college campus are eligible for membership in the Day Student Association. This organization has done much to strengthen the ties between campus and day students, by sponsoring social events both on the campus and in Burlington. It sends representatives to the Council and Senate, acting as the governing unit of all Day Students while they are on the campus. Wallace Kernodle heads the group as President and is assisted in his duties by Fred Lowe, Vice President; Virginia Crawford, Secretary; and H. M. Austin, Treasurer.

For the first time in their history, the Day Student Association sponsored a Students' College Day for the seniors in all the high schools throughout Alamance County.

Members of the Association acted as guides to show the guests about the campus. All departments of the college were visited. Students of the Physics staged an Open House in their honor, showing some of the humorous tricks as well as the practical side of the science. Miss Newman received in the Art department for an exhibit of student work, and Professor and Mrs. Howell, assisted by Miss Davis, conducted the seniors through the Business department.

To climax the day, pictures of campus life were shown in Whitley and members of the Home Economics department entertained the visitors at a tea.

The Association has planned to make Students' College Day a part of their regular program in the future.

The Elon College Players have had a large share in building the interest in dramatics which is traditional on the campus. During the year they present one-act plays of various types and some original plays. Their major production of the year, a popular three-act play, is staged in the early spring. For the 1940 production, "You Can't Take It With You," current hit of the New York stage and screen by George Kaufman and Moss Hart, was staged.

Membership in the club is not limited, and all students interested in any phase of dramatics may become members of the Elon College Players.

PAN-HELLENIC COUNCIL

With the passing of the three well known Literary Societies from the campus, fraternities, sororities and the Pan-Hellenic Council assumed the lead in campus social activities and since that time have become outstanding in college life. Friendly rivalry has existed since their organization, but the entire group, through the Pan-Hellenic Council, has worked together for mutual good.

The Council was organized in 1930. Its members are delegates from each of the eight fraternal groups on the campus, and its function is that of governing the fraternities and sororities, of strengthening the bonds between them, of promoting a higher social element on the campus and of sponsoring social functions during the school year.

New members are pledged to the social groups twice during the school year. Bid Night, climaxing the Rush Season sponsored by the Council, is a gala occasion for each of the fraternities and sororities, and all campus activities are centered about "The Greeks." Following Bid Night initiation of new pledges attracts student attention and furnished fun for Greeks and non-Greeks alike.

Monthly parties held in the gym are under the supervision of the Pan-Hellenic Council, with the brother-sister fraternity and sorority sponsoring one party in turn. Music, entertainment and refreshments are planned, and each tries to make their party the most memorable one of the series.

All in all, the Pan-Hellenic Council with its fraternity and sorority membership fill a very important place in campus life. Though primarily social, they participate in intramural sports, academic contests and regular extra curricular activities of all kinds.

So here's a little song for Delta U,
 Real womanhood, thoughtful and good.
 A song to keep us smiling and be glad
 For all our yesterdays we've had.
 Our dreams and our ideals
 Will lead us
 On to our gold
 Firm in purpose and soul.
 Come on and yell it,
 For we can tell it,
 Delta, Delta, U.

So, let us ever sing for Delta U,
 As on we go, hearts ever true,
 A word of courage giving
 And a smile the while,
 Cheering us on.
 Our cares and our troubles
 Will soon fade away
 From day to day
 Come Sisters join us,
 Sing ever with us
 Delta, Delta, U.

I T K

I T K boys are the finest
You'll find in the Old North State today.
Their bonds of friendship ne'er be broken
As through this world they wind their way.
But yet, whatever be life's fortune,
Our trust in God shall ever stay.
Those dear old friends won't be forgotten
By the boys of the I T K.

When our college days are over,
And in this world we take our stand,
Our colors red and black shall conquer
And wave throughout this mighty land.

But yet, whate'er befalls a brother
The red and black shall ever be
A friend to those who need befriending
With love and loyalty.

Chorus

Cheer boys for the I T K
They'll help you in every way.
They'll do their best for you.
You'll find them staunch and true.
So do your best boys in every way
Rah, Rah for the I T K.

By games won and lost, the 1939 football season was one of the worst for Elon in several years. However, the statistics of five games won and five games lost do not reveal the entire story of the record of this squad coached by Horace Hendrickson for the third year, and assisted by Joe Brunansky.

Although prospects were bright at the beginning of the season with 14 lettermen back, injuries to key men and other things prevented the Christians from ever reaching their full strength. Then again, two of the losses were to teams completely out of class with anything Elon has played within the past several years. Incidentally both losses were by identical margins, 34 to 0. Wake Forest, victor by this score in the opener, was one of the south's strongest clubs. Catholic University received a bid to the Sun bowl and there played a scoreless tie with Arizona State Teachers College.

Another loss was a 7 to 6 defeat by Appalachian in one of the fiercest battles of the year even though the Mountaineers were heavily favored. Lenoir Rhyne scored a 10 to 0 upset victory over the Christians when they were perhaps at their weakest. A fast stepping La Salle team completely outplayed a partially demoralized team to win, 32 to 6.

On the credit side of the ledger, Elon beat a previously undefeated Catawba eleven 7 to 0 in one of the North State conference's biggest upsets of the year.

All in all the year might be termed successful if obstacles placed in the way of victory are considered.

Prospects are fairly bright for the coming year. Three men were lost by graduation, Captain Art Lea, a fighting little end, James Fritts, 200 pound guard, and Charlie Pittman, who proved that the old saying "They can't comeback" is wrong by sparking the Christians during the latter half of the year after injuries had kept him on the bench for practically three and a half years. Pittman was high scorer for the year with 47 points.

A brief summary of each game follows:

WAKE FOREST, 34; ELON, 0

For three quarters a solid Elon forward wall backed up by a fine defensive backfield held a Wake Forest running attack, which at the end of the season proved to be one of the best in the nation, at bay.

The halftime score was 6 to 0 and the three quarter margin was 14 to 0, surprising the so-called experts who had predicted a runaway. However, lack of reserves on Elon's part and a continuous stream of substitutes by the foe caused the Elons to wilt in the last quarter, and the Deacons, with John Polanski leading, tallied 20 points. Curry Bryan, guard, Garland Causey, tackle, Charles Donato, guard, Wellington Saecker, end, and Jack Boone, in the backfield, played the biggest part in stopping Mayberry, Gallovich, Polanski, Edwards and others, but they were unable to hold up without relief. The game was played in Greensboro's Memorial Stadium.

ELON, 19; HIGH POINT, 0

Elon copped its first North State conference victory of the year with Joe Golombek and Lee Fones pacing the Christians to the victory over High Point. Golombek tallied twice and Fones once. Captain Lea, Bryan, Donato and Causey along with Captain-elect Saecker played well in the line, often stopping a threatening Panther running attack. The game was played at High Point.

LA SALLE, 32; ELON, 6

A dazzling running attack in the last half baffled the Christians in this game as the Philadelphia club trounced Elon 32 to 6 at Burlington. The brilliant running of Paul Prettyman, La Salle halfback, was a feature of the game. Elon's score came in the second quarter when Bernie Daher passed to John Henry Pearce for the touchdown. Jack Boone, Captain Art Lea and Wellington Saecker did a great job defensively, but it wasn't enough.

CATHOLIC U., 34; ELON, 0

A stubborn Elon defense made the Cardinals of Catholic U. extend themselves for every touchdown as the Christians bowed to a superior eleven in Washington, D. C. Power was the key of the Catholic attack, and Elon, with injuries throughout the club, was unable to hold the powerful running attack of one of the east's outstanding teams in check. At one time the passing combination of Daher to Pearce advanced the ball to the five-yard marker, but two passes failed.

LENOIR RHYNE, 10; ELON, 0

Breaks truly decided this contest, Elon outplayed their North State conference foe throughout, but fumbles proved disastrous. A miscue set the stage for a Lenoir Rhyne field goal early in the game, and then later another one enabled a foe to grab the ball as it bounced off an Elon backfield man and run for a touchdown. Elon's offense functioned very well except near the goal line. The game was played again in Hickory.

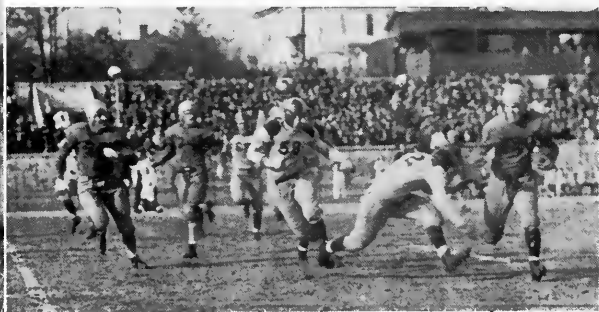

ELON, 14; NAVAL APPRENTICE, 0

For the first time of the season, the Christians really showed a little power in downing Apprentice 14 to 0, although Charlie Pittman did have to do about all the ball carrying himself. Pittman, running at fullback, pierced the Shipbuilders' line time and again and finally scored both touchdowns. His work along with that of Jack Boone was a feature of the game at Newport News, Va.

APPALACHIAN, 7; ELON, 6

These two fierce North State conference rivals reversed the score of the year before as Elon was eliminated from the loop race in Greensboro. A versatile Mountaineer running attack with Ernie Safrit, Bob Broome and Henderson Baker alternating paced the Boone Boys to the triumph. Despite the fact that Elon was kept on the defensive the greater part of this battle of mud, the Appalachians got within scoring distance only twice, the time they did tally and then one time when Wellington Saecker blocked an attempted field goal. Jack Boone's kicking kept the Christians out of several spots and Charlie Pittman and Lee Fones kept Elon in the ball game with their running. Curry Bryan, at guard, and Garland Causey, at tackle, were again line standouts.

ELON, 7; CATAWBA, 0

Substitute center Hubbard Law's recovery of a Catawba fumble in the first period on the foe's 18-yard stripe set the stage for Elon to score an upset victory over the Indians at Salisbury. In seven tries Charlie Pittman cracked the line for the score and Causey placekicked the extra point. For the remainder of the game, the Elons kept their foe in the hole and turned in one of the best games of the year.

ELON, 52; WESTERN CAROLINA, 0

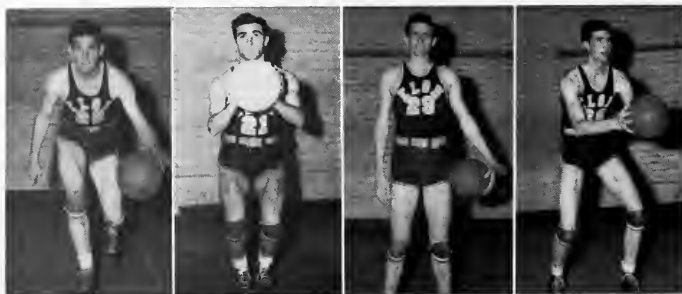

With Lee Fones setting the pace with three touchdowns, two of them on runs of over 60 yards, the Christians routed their North State conference rivals at Burlington. Jack Boone added two more touchdowns, and Charlie Pittman, Joe Tomanehek and Joe Hopkins one each. Pittman scored three of the points after touchdowns and Fones one. Practically the entire Elon squad saw action and from the start had little trouble in trampling the Catamounts who were no match in size or power.

ELON, 28; GUILFORD, 8

Elon concluded its season with a 28 to 8 triumph over a stubborn Quaker eleven in Greensboro's Memorial stadium. Throughout the Guilford team put up a stubborn fight but the outcome was never in doubt. Charlie Pittman, in the backfield, and Captain Art Lea and James Fritts in the line brought their careers to a close with outstanding exhibitions.

Elon's 1939-40 basketball team, composed mainly of sophomores, compiled a remarkable record for the season and attained recognition as one of the outstanding cage clubs in North Carolina.

Out of a 22-game schedule, the Christians won 19 and were undefeated on their home floor. Elon outscored its opponents by a large margin, 1,056 to 624 points for foes.

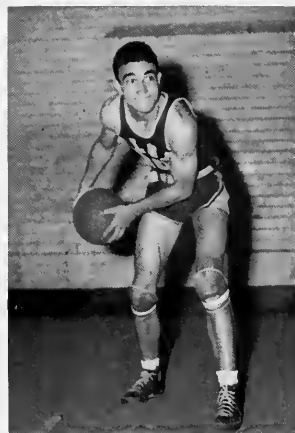

The high scoring accomplishments of the Christians who averaged nearly 50 points per game for the season were led by Captain Lloyd Whitley and Jack Gardner, two forwards who were admittedly one of the most outstanding combinations in the south. Whitley tallied 214 points while Gardner scored 202. Besides their ability in hitting the basket, these two boys were invaluable with their floor play. Both were placed on the all-North State conference team at the end of the season.

John Henry Pearce, lanky junior from Suffolk, Va., took care of the pivot post while Lincoln Manzi and W. I. Hobson, a couple of flashy sophomores, handled the guard positions. Max Zyvith, Ed Potter, Ray Cessna, and Douglas Moss won letters as reserves.

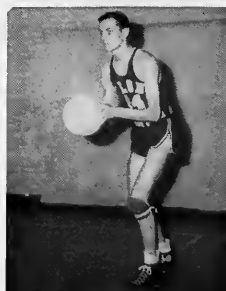

Elon won 14 consecutive contests before being upset in the North State race by a fighting Catawba club at Salisbury. After seeing Appalachian run away with the game at Boone, the Christians got revenge here but saw Western Carolina do the same thing. Elon finished second to Appalachian in the North State conference race.

Within the conference, Elon started off with a bang, encountering little opposition until the middle of the season. The first North State clash was with Guilford on the Quaker's home court. The Christians had little trouble winning this one by a 59 to 20 score as the first team sat on the bench all but about five minutes.

Lenoir Rhyne gave the Cannonade a few anxious moments at Hickory, but Captain Whitley, Gardner and the rest came through with a 46 to 34 triumph. Later on the Elon court, the Bears battled Elon to a 13 to 13 tie at the half, but during the final 20 minutes, Whitley, Gardner, and Manzi went wild to roll up a final 51 to 19 margin of victory. Whitley had 13 points in the last half of this clash for one of his biggest scoring spurges of the year.

With Whitley, Gardner and Pearce leading, the Christians had little trouble in doubling the score on Western Carolina, 58 to 26. This game gave little indication of the 50 to 48 defeat which the Catamounts were to pin on the high riding quintet later in the season.

A two-game series with Atlantic Christian at Wilson was little more than a workout for the Elons who won by 62 to 25 and 54 to 23 scores. The second team saw a great deal of action in these two tilts.

Then came the first of the two clashes with High Point, Elon's greatest rival on the court. Strangely enough, this game had little of the competition which usually characterizes these contests. Elon played its greatest game of the year to more than double the score, winning 40 to 19. Elon was superb: the passing was accurate, few shots were missed and the backboard was all Elon's at both ends of the floor. The sharp-shooting Panthers managed to get 12 points in the first half, but they counted only seven in the last half as Elon turned in one of its greatest defensive performances. Whitley was high scorer with 12 points.

Truly great in the High Point game, Elon dropped to the other extreme in the next game. For the first time, the Christians knew defeat. Catawba, taking advantage of an off night for their foe, romped off with a 29 to 22 triumph. Whitley and Gardner, usually high scorers, could not find the basket and were held to low scores on the Salisbury court.

However, Elon got its revenge by taking the Indians into camp here by a 43 to 39 margin. Guilford again fell victim, this time by a 69 to 31 score as the second string did most of the playing. In the return contest with High Point, the Christians barely managed to edge out a 40 to 39 win on the strength of Gardner's 20 points.

For the second time in the season Elon lost as Appalachian copped a 60 to 41 victory at Boone in a well played game. However, the Christians again sought, and found, revenge, beating the Mountaineers, 24 to 22 on the home court. The season ended with the 50 to 48 defeat at Western Carolina.

A team that ranked with the best in North Carolina, of this part of the nation, represented Elon on the baseball diamond during the spring of 1940.

A bunch of sophomores and freshmen with only a sprinkling of juniors and seniors sewed up the North State conference with little trouble.

At the time it was necessary to write this summary in time for PHU-PSI-CLU to go to press, the Christians had played and won 18 ball games, a phenomenal record. Sports writers over the State were giving recognition to Elon, praising its record which ranks with the best ever made at this institution.

Of the 18 contests, 12 were North State conference clashes. Only three loop games remained on the schedule, thus making it impossible for any other club to claim any share of the title.

Although the wide swath which Coach Horace Hendrickson's nine cut through North State opposition was notable, the victories which drew most recognition were those over Cornell, ranking nine of the East, and Wake Forest, Big Five and Southern Conference leaders.

Early in the season Elon nosed out the Cornells 2 to 1 in one of the best played contests of the year. Roland Longest, relying on control and craftiness, hurled the victory.

Given the place of the underdogs, the Christians romped over Wake Forest unmercifully for an 18 to 9 triumph, thus definitely stamping themselves as North Carolina's No. 1 club. Longest again received credit for the win although Lefty Tal Abernethy finished the clash.

Power and pitching as well as general all around good baseball playing was the secret of the success of the Elon's. Practically the entire starting lineup slugged the ball for better than .300 averages, Sophomore Jack Gardner leading with a mark of better than .400. Helping out Gardner who pattrolled centerfield were Stan Yonkosky, a freshman with an average of better than .380, and Co-captain Joe Hardison, one of the two seniors on the club. Hardison also hit above the select .300 mark. LeRoy Fones, a junior, alternated at times in the outfield. His average was also high.

The infield, made up mostly of players converted from other positions, rounded into a smooth working unit before the end of the season. Emo Showfety at first looked good afield and provided the slugging punch needed by any good club. W. L. Hobson at second was easily within the .300 class and his fielding was excellent. Freshman Johnny Clayton won plaudits from sports writers and fans alike for his work at shortstop. He was recognized as the finest fielding shortstop in the state and his .380 average at the plate showed no signs of weakness. Sophomore Bernie Daher at third filled in a big hole in fine style and his .325 mark left no room for complaint.

Behind the plate, Coach Hendrickson had his biggest worry: the problem was not where to find a catcher, but which one of three to use. Al Progar, a sophomore, Ed Potter, a junior, and Joe Tomanehek, a freshman, all were first class receivers.

The pitching staff, like the catching corps, was well rounded. Co-Captain Andy Fuller and Long-

GIRL'S ATHLETICS

Under the supervision of Mrs. Horace Hendrickson, General Director, and her assistant, Miss Evelyn Holmes, Student Coach, girls athletics have assumed an important place in campus activities this year. Tournament titles are hotly contested and much interest in all phases of their program are attracting more students.

The sports activities for girls are entirely intramural, but much rivalry accompanies each contest because of the club, class, and dormitory teams participating. Tennis, basketball, volleyball, softball, archery, hiking, folk and rhythm dancing and regular gymnasium work form the larger part of the scheduled activities for the group. Fundamentals for beginners, lessons in technique for advanced students, and methods in directing athletics for girls are taught throughout the year.

The outstanding event of the year for students participating in girls athletics was the production of "Hansel and Gretel" for the 1940 May Day Celebration. Advanced students arranged and directed the dance routines, designed the costumes and scenery, and arranged the pageantry for the program. The regular classes made the costumes, arranged the scenery and were members of the dance chorus. This was the first program of its kind to be presented as part of the May Day activities, and the entire department deserves congratulations for its work.
